INITIATIVE

For Women

This talk is really great, it talks about how we need to be more brave when it comes to the dating life. Most of us women are like flowers, beautiful and blooming. We just need to show men come around and show interest, we need to go after the ones we are interested in and show them that we are great girls. So we need more initiative as women. Elder Anderson also talked about the way we need to treat those that we date. We need to that. So instead of waiting for men to come to us, we need to take more initiative.

CHARACTERISTICS FOR ATTRACTION

Elder Anderson talks about how we are attracted to other people based on the qualities they show. They have to see in us, qualities that define the person that they want for the rest of their lives. It is extremely important that we be the person they need and want. Those characteristics are mainly those that lie within us and make us who we are.

QUOTES FOR EVERYONE

“Don’t be afraid to take a chance with someone who might not be an obvious choice. When Kathy and I began to know one another, to me she was not only a person of very deep faith and intelligence, but she was also a Florida princess. She wore nice clothes and had a certain sophistication. I was an Idaho farm boy. I came from a small dairy farm just north of Pocatello, in the little community of Tyhee.”

“As you progress in your dating to seriously considering sharing your lives together, you share your most private thoughts, your dreams, and your fears. You share who you are, who you have been, and who you want to become. Complete honesty and unselfish humility. If you struggle with pornography or have struggled in the past, a person considering you as an eternal companion deserves to know about your challenge and how you have faced it. If you have had difficulty with other addictions, keeping the law of chastity, lying or stealing, humility and honesty urges that you give to the person you love the opportunity to spiritually and prayerfully weigh the choices of going forward, before a proposal is accepted and announced.” - Elder Anderson
